Dear TICA Officers, Directors, and Committee Members,

On behalf of the Thai Breed Section we are asking the Board to revoke TIMBA recognition for the Thai breed. You are receiving this letter individually because the last time we submitted this request for Board action our letter for unknown reasons was not included in the agenda. (We have an email from Leslie Bowers that acknowledges receipt of the letter 90 days before the Annual Meeting, so it was not because it was late.) As you know, the By-Laws state that the Board of Directors govern TICA. The entire Board of Directors rules on matters that members bring to its attention.

The following is a sequence of prior events relating to TIMBA recognition:

1. Prior to the 2018 TICA Board Winter Meeting, a letter by a single Thai Breed Section member, dated December 27, 2018, was added to the Appendix to the Agenda less than 30 days prior to the meeting. At that meeting, the Board, as requested by that one Thai breeder, recognized TIMBA as a registry but only for three breeds—the Thai, the Korat, and the Khaomanee.
2. On March 18, 2018, more than ninety days prior to the 2018 Spring Board Meeting, the Thai Breed Committee requested that the TICA Board delay TIMBA recognition so we might discuss with and poll our section members. The minutes do not reflect whether the issue was discussed by the TICA Board—and the Thai Breed Committee was not notified as to what action was taken.
3. Meanwhile, the Thai Breed Section discussed the question of TIMBA recognition for two months: April and May of 2018.
4. On May 29, 2018, the Thai Breed Committee concluded an anonymous vote of the Thai Breed Section using Groups.io, and by an overwhelming two-thirds supermajority (70%) the membership voted that they do not want TIMBA recognized as a registry for the Thai.
5. On May 30, 2018, the Thai Breed Committee therefore submitted a request ninety days prior to the TICA Annual Meeting as required by TICA Standing Rule 1017.1.2 asking the Board to revoke recognition of TIMBA for the Thai breed. A copy of this letter is attached below.
6. For unknown reasons our letter was not included in the Agenda of the 2018 Annual Meeting.
7. The Agenda of the 2018 Annual Meeting did include a letter from Martin Wood of the Rules Committee which commented on a few of the issues we raised but stated the rest of the issues he would leave up to the Board to consider. Of course the Board did not have our letter while reviewing Martin Wood's reply. There was therefore nothing before the Board to consider.
8. On August 30, 2018, two of our three breed committee members (Virginia Harris and Cristy Bird) attended the Annual Meeting. For reasons we do not understand, the Agenda item listed as follows was not discussed during the meeting: "1. Comments from Rules regarding correspondence with Thai Breed Committee." To be clear, this item was listed on the Agenda, but was not discussed. Moreover, it was not mentioned in any manner in the minutes published after the meeting. Although Cristy Bird of the Thai Breed Committee gave a presentation on the progress of the Thai breed during the last eight years, and she mentioned the concerns Thai fanciers have that recognition of TIMBA may derail continued progress, no time was set aside after that presentation for the Board to discuss the Thai Breed letter. Some directors have told us that they truly did not know what was supposed to happen at the Annual Meeting regarding the Thai Breed Committee and TIMBA. They said they kept waiting for that to become clear during the meeting, and it never did.

The Thai breed section members have asked us to bring this matter to the Board's attention—to let the Board know that Thai fanciers are asking for an up-or-down vote on TIMBA as applied to the Thai breed. We are submitting this matter again more than ninety days prior to the next Board meeting as required by Standing Rule 1017.1.2 in the hopes it will not slip through the cracks this time. Standing Rule 1017.1.3.1.1 states:

“Notification: Members are to be notified of action taken at the Board Meeting on proposals submitted by them with a target date of 10 working days after completion of the minutes.”

This, along with Standing Rule 1017.1.2, gives the membership of TICA an opportunity to have matters important to us heard by our Board. It is also important to have concerns documented in the minutes of meetings. If they are not documented, it will seem as if concerns were never brought to the attention of the directors, as if concerns never existed. We respectfully request that the Board give serious consideration to, and allow official documentation of, the Thai Breed Section's deep concerns about TIMBA. If the Board wishes they can of course recognize TIMBA for the Korat and the Khaomane, both of which breeds are considerably smaller than the Thai breed. However, the Thai Breed is asking to be treated in the same way as TICA's Burmese and Tonkinese breeds. TIMBA registers Burmese and Tonkinese, but the Board did not accept TIMBA for the Burmese and Tonkinese, and we would prefer that it not be accepted for the Thai breed either. The people who breed Thais in TICA know the situation in Thailand and how it can impact our breed better than anyone else. We are the stakeholders. Although our Thai breed section poll is advisory in nature, not binding upon the Board, it clearly indicates how strongly the Thai breed section members feel about this issue.

In summary, because our letter addressed to the entire TICA Board of Directors was for unknown reasons not included in the Agenda of the 2018 Annual Meeting, we are for the second time submitting a request to revoke TIMBA for the Thai breed. We owe it to our breed section members to see that their concerns are documented in the Agenda of the 2019 Winter Meeting, and we appeal to the Directors to give us consideration and an up-or-down vote.

Sincerely,

Virginia H. Harris

May 30, 2018

Dear TICA Officers, Directors, and Committee Members,

Every breed has its own special history, its own strengths and weaknesses, its own unique community of fanciers. No one knows more about a breed than its community. No one has more invested in a TICA breed than the TICA members who actually breed, exhibit, or live with cats of the breed. With that in mind, we invited all 62 Thai breed section members to join us in discussing TICA'S acceptance of TIMBA pedigrees.

At the end of 2 months of discussion (April and May, 2018) - with several hundreds of messages covering the wide range of views - we polled the Thai Breed Section members using groups.io polling software. Votes were anonymous. We asked our members if they want TICA to CANCEL (revoke) acceptance of TIMBA pedigrees for the Thai breed – yes or no.

The result? Fully 70% of the Thai breed section members who voted want TICA to CANCEL acceptance of TIMBA pedigrees for the Thai breed. That is a remarkably strong consensus for a breed section with such an international and diverse membership.

Note: TICA Genetics Committee member Dragana Petkovic is a Thai Breed Section member, and participated in the discussion and the poll.

On behalf of the Thai Breed Section . . .

We, the elected members of the Thai Breed Committee, would like to make the TICA Board of Directors aware of the following:

1. The Thai is a category 2 breed. It's supposed to augment its gene pool by using the natural, unregistered cats of Thailand, not the registered, selectively bred cats of Thailand. See Registration Rules 37.3.1.
2. The Thai can, of course, use Thai cats registered by registries that TICA has accepted. However, TIMBA is not a proven registry. A proven registry should have existed for more than 5 years, should have a documented history of licensing and organizing cat shows, should have trained cat show judges that it works with and that can testify on its behalf, and more. In addition, TIMBA is based in an unstable, third world country that went through another military coup only a few years ago.

3. If TICA's BOD believes that TIMBA is a proven registry – comparable to any other registry of Thais – then why does TICA limit acceptance of TIMBA to Thais, Korats, and KMs? Why not for category 1 breeds from Thailand such as the Burmese and Tonkinese? TIMBA registers those breeds. The Thai deserves the same respect as a breed like the Burmese.

4. If the idea is to help breeders access information about where cats came from in Thailand, then TICA should do this for ALL cats from Thailand. TICA should record pedigrees of Thailand breeders who are not part of TIMBA, as well as provenance of unregistered cats imported by TICA breeders. For example, if a cat came from a cat colony in a certain wat in Bangkok, put that in the cat's TICA pedigree. Have a field for noting provenance.

5. By deciding to record pedigrees/provenance only for TIMBA cats and not for other cats from Thailand, TICA is in effect giving TIMBA cats favored status over other cats from Thailand. Aside from the fact that the Thai is supposed to primarily use unregistered, natural cats from Thailand, favoring TIMBA is unfair to Thailand breeders and others who do not wish to work with TIMBA.

We, the members of the Thai Breed Committee and the Thai Breed Section, do not believe that accepting pedigrees from an unproven registry (TIMBA) is in the best interest of the Thai breed in TICA. We know that the native, unregistered cats of Thailand are genetically extraordinary. Dr. Leslie Lyons recently submitted a paper for publication that will discuss exactly that. We want TICA rules and policies that will promote the use of the natural, unregistered cats of Thailand in the gene pool of the Thai breed.

We ask the TICA Board of Directors to CANCEL the acceptance of TIMBA pedigrees for the Thai breed. It is the right thing to do and democratic thing to do.

Sincerely,

Virginia H. Harris

Rules Committee Comments on TIMBA Correspondence

The Rules Committee received a letter from the Thai Breed Committee (on behalf of the Thai Breed Section) dated 30 May 2018 concerning the recent decision by the Board to recognise TIMBA pedigrees from specific breeds, which were Category II (Natural Breeds).

The Thai BC claimed that the action of the Board that accepted TIMBA pedigrees for some breeds is not an administrative decision because it was not accepted for all of TICA's breeds or in a way that follows existing registration rules in TICA. They requested that Rules Committee review the decision and provide further input.

Rules Committee has considered the letter and has the following comments:

Breed Section Poll:

The Thai Breed Section poll was an unofficial one and is therefore not binding on the Board and purely advisory.

Interpretation of Reg Rule 37.2.1:

Registration Rule 37.3.1 states: "Purpose. This category is for natural breeds which may have need to augment their gene pool with additional cats of unregistered ancestry but which have little to gain (and perhaps much to lose) by outcrossing to other breeds. For the most part these breeds are ones which originated in specific geographic regions where good representatives of the breed are still to be found in their native state as pets, barn cats, feral cats, etc."

Note that the first sentence says "may have need" - in other words it is an option and not an exclusive requirement that unregistered cats be used to augment the gene pool.

The use of a registry located in a "specific geographical region" is not forbidden. For example, TICA would not refuse to register a Manx with a GCCF pedigree or a Norwegian Forest with an NRR (Norwegian member of FIFe) pedigree.

Use of selected Breeds

Although unusual to only recognise pedigrees only for specific breeds from a registry, this is not against any TICA rules. Since the Rules Committee was not present during that Board meeting discussion, the Committee cannot comment further on the rationale for doing that.

Acceptable registries:

There are no TICA rules regarding what is, or is not, acceptable as a registry for pedigree registration purposes. In the past Rules has considered drafting such rules but felt it was better to treat each registry on a case by case basis by the EO and/or Board.

Point 2 in the letter lists criteria for a “proven registry”. These criteria are not facts or TICA policy but assumed to be the opinions of the letter’s authors. A number of independent clubs (particularly in Europe) that issue pedigrees would not meet such criteria but have already been recognised on a case by case basis by TICA.

Use of 01T Registration Prefixes

The BC comments that “Thais registered by TIMBA should not receive 01T registration prefixes”. The Committee cannot comment on such matters, since it is not privy to the information used to decide registration codes for specific cats. Registration queries should be raised with the EO in the first instance.

37.3.3 and Form R-1020

In the context of the Registration Rules, a “domestic breed” refers to a breed of Felis Domesticus, as opposed to a non-domestic cat (31.1) and has nothing to do with geographic origin. The letter’s reference to TIMBA being a “domestic registry” is therefore seen as incorrect. 37.3.3 refers to “evidence of origin” for cats of unknown or unregistered ancestry, which would be adequate for registering purposes. Form R-1020 would only be needed if the cat was unregistered and being registered with TICA in its country of origin rather than being imported into (for example) the US.

Provenance Information in Pedigrees

The Thai BC suggest that TICA record provenance information such as “a cat colony in a certain wat in Bangkok”. This is not something that Rules can comment upon in isolation. It would need consultation with Genetics and also with the EO and Computer Committee, because of the database implications. That is an aspect that the Board should review and provide direction on.

Yes, I saw it. It is not something that a few members of one breed committee should have any power over. Many others in their breed group want it, as do Kao Manee breeders, maybe Korat and Burmese? Yes, I am not sure we should exclude TIMBA, especially if other breed groups recognize this registry. I completely agree with xxxxxx opinion.

We do not exclude TIMBA registry, we only would like them to follow TICA registration rules as any other Thai breeder.

Registration rules, article six - Registration status, 36.6 Foundation Registration.

36.6.1 Purpose. The Foundation Registry is for new breeds which are in an early developmental stage and in which record keeping is vital to the history of the breed. The registration of these breeds will provide an accurate, precise chronicle of the breeds progress and development, and may prove or disprove its future acceptance as a viable, healthy breed as well as providing analysis of any genetic problems inherent in a particular breeding program.

Also there is table of Registration Prefixes and Breeds of Parent and the Prefixes of their THAI Kittens.

And finally: How many TIMBA Thai cats has TICA (foundation) registration?
How many TIMBA Thai cats has been seen by TICA judges?
How many TICA members TIMBA has?
Does all of TIMBA cats have microchip?

Why all those rules should apply for all Thai breeders around the world, but not for TIMBA, they just have to write 15 cats names on the peace of paper and this is good enough? Is this good for Thai breed genetics?
This is example of korat TIMBA pedigree, and there is 3 generation of cats that probably have never been seen by TICA judges.

Here is TIMBA registration code: <http://www.timba.org/understanding-registration-codes.html>, do you think it is good enough?
Maybe TIMBA breeders are doing good job, let them prove it simply by following TICA regulations that already exists.

[TICAGenetics]" <TICAGenetics@yahoogroups.com>

But there are other registries we accept pedigrees from for other breeds, where cats have not been seen by TICA judges. I can buy a GCCF Selkirk Rex, and import into TICA, with no cats in ten generations seen by TICA judges or with TICA registrations.

I don't understand what is so wrong about TIMBA?

[TICAGenetics]" <TICAGenetics@yahoogroups.com>
Date:10/31/2018 09:54PM

The TIMBA registration is not identical to a foundation registration in that you can see the parents etc. It allows a person who gets a TIMBA cat to know if it is a close relative of someone else's TIMBA cat. With foundation registration you would not know that. Any imported cat, whether a TIMBA Thai of a street cat Thai from Thailand (or Khao Manee or Korat), or a Siamese imported from FIFE, still has to meet the standard or produce kittens that meet the standard to be a success in a breeding program.

TIMBA is emphasizing genetic testing, genetic diversity (low inbreeding) and health. They are not the same as a WCC association, but I truly don't see anything negative about recognizing them for importing native cats of Thailand for ancestry purposes. It has benefits over picking up a random cat from the streets that looks something like the breed. These are native breeds of Thailand and they can be picked up in Thailand off of the street and taken into championship. In terms of type one always has to deal with that whether an import or within your own litters. The show bench sorts that out

<TICAGenetics@yahoogroups.com> wrote:

That is exactly what i am talking about, meeting the standard, health, quality of offspring. When you pick up Thai cat from the streets of the Thailand, she has to be examined by 3 judges to receive TICA registration number, and you know if this cat is in standard or not, you are starting from the beginning with breeding work. When you buy TIMBA cat then this procedure does not exist and you have championship cat that bypassed the procedure for first 3 or more generations. That means that you have street cat with championship status, you can register it with SBT number right away. I do not think that it is good for the breed. And majority of the Thai breed Committee thinks the same. If TIMBA registry will be accepted without following registration rules for Thai breed, then they are not in equal position with other Thai breeders.

Selkirk Rex pedigrees has lot more generation then Thai, and TIMBA pedigrees could have 2 or 3 generations and street cat in the beginning, this is big difference.

[TICAGenetics]" <TICAGenetics@yahoogroups.com>

Date:11/02/2018 06:40PM

It would be very possible for me to buy a FIFE registered, or CCA registered Siamese or Oriental that would come in as SBT or SBV in TICA and which would be totally not of show type. The purchaser needs to do their homework in terms of the likelihood of their cat meeting the standard. IMO that in no way erases the benefit of having a cat with known parentage. Also, the existence of TIMBA and accepting their pedigrees in no way prevents anyone from instead getting a cat from a feral colony that looks like a Khao Manee, Thai, or Korat. It simply provides another way to get a native thai cat from Thailand. Wanting to refuse that makes little genetic sense to me.

[TICAGenetics]" <TICAGenetics@yahoogroups.com>

Date:11/04/2018 08:24AM

Here is the relevant Registration rule with the relevant part in bold. The Thais don't have to fill out the form as long as they meet the requirements for Registration.

Registration Rule 37.3.3 Requirements for Registration. The cat must be the product of two registered representatives of the breed with the exception of cats of unknown or unregistered ancestry for which proof of origin is available and such origin is acceptable for the breed in question. Such cats may be registered as first generation purebreds providing the application is accompanied by a health certificate, customs declaration, air bill, or similar evidence of origin. For a domestic breed, a signed Certificate Form (Form R-1020) from three TICA Allbreed judges must be submitted stating that they have handled the cat in question and find that it sufficiently meets the standard for its breed for use in a breeding program.

[TICAGenetics]" <TICAGenetics@yahoogroups.com>

Date:11/04/2018 12:37PM

So, just to clarify....

A Thai cat can be presented and registered in full so long as it is from Thailand?
(Without documented parentage or assessment by judges)

The objection to TIMBA is that the cats could be imported into TICA registration, without assessment by judges, but these cats DO have recorded parentage?

I still do not understand why accepting TIMBA records is a problem.

[TICAGenetics]" <TICAGenetics@yahoogroups.com>

Date:11/05/2018 11:10AM

That is correct. There needs to be appropriate import papers showing that it is from the country of the native breed. The show bench takes care of type.

True, but I think COI works well as an instant indicator and it's free and easy to calculate. It's also easy for breeders and owners to understand. The KC Mate Select website is free for anyone to use, provided both parents are KC registered. As for DNA profiling such as the Wisdom panel, it's worth noting that it's actually not legal to mail genetic samples from the UK. At the Post office if you tell them that's what you are sending, they refuse to process them. They're considered biological samples and therefore have to be shipped as such. That's quite complicated and expensive.

On 9 Jan 2018, at 18:00, [TICAGenetics] <TICAGenetics@yahoogroups.com> wrote:

BTW, as an FYI to Gen committee members. The COI, while useful, is an estimate. The new Wisdom panel actually measures heterozygosity and is therefore a better tool to keep inbreeding problems low than COIs are.

My personal opinion is that if other registries, that we already accept pedigrees from, are comfortable with these, then I see no problem. I particularly like that they are striving for low inbreeding coefficients. I'd like to see us aiming for that in future too. The UK kennel club has a great database function whereby a breeder can enter the names of dogs they intend to mate and see what the CoI will be for that mating and compare it to the breed average. Since I was first able to do this in my breed the CoI has dropped from 9.7% to 8.8%, not perfect but certainly a step in the right direction.

Amend Standing Rule 106.4.6.5.2 (Judging Committee Criteria) - Meserve

Rationale:

The TICA judging committee deal with confidential information and this would eliminate a possible conflict of interest.

Amend 106.4.6.5.2:

106.4.6.5 Candidates for election to Judging Committee shall provide documentation of having met the following requirements for election:

106.4.6.5.1 Have met the requirements to vote in any TICA election and serve on any TICA Committee which requires extended membership.

106.4.6.5.2 Be a licensed TICA Ring and School Instructor and/or an Approved Allbreed Judge with a minimum of 5 years' experience as an Approved Allbreed judge and not hold a judging license from another association

Rules Committee Comments:

(A)

First, I like this proposal. That being said, I think that there needs to be some measure of security with peoples' information. There needs to be no appearance of a conflict of interest. If someone is judging for another association and/or is an officer or someone of "power" then that is a conflict. There needs to be some loyalty to TICA.

(B)

I think it is positive to have some on the committee familiar with other associations and how they operate to help us keep ahead of the game. Many judges in Europe hold dual licenses so it would drop our pool of candidates that are eligible to serve

(C)

That makes me sad too!

Holding more than one licence should not be a bad thing – we should be proud of judges with such an experience!

(D)

I think this is a step too far. It would remove some highly qualified candidates (especially in Europe) from consideration. I could perhaps understand it if the judge was an "officer" in another association but this is a blanket ban. It smacks of "protectionism" rather than the openness and tolerance that are at the heart of TICA's values.

(E)

I've thought a lot about this proposed change and agree with (B), (C) and (D). Judges that hold 'multiple' licenses bring a global perspective to our Judging program. To exclude them from running for the Judging Committee is not in the best interest of TICA.

Amend 51.2.5 Clerking Program, Recertification (Barnes)

Rationale:

The requirement that the fee be paid on or before May 1 is unrealistic. If this rule was enforced, it would be necessary to drop virtually everyone from the clerking program. The suggested change reflects present practice.

Amend 51.2.5.1:

51.2.5 Recertification. All TRAINEES and LICENSED CLERKS will be recertified upon meeting the following requirements:

51.2.5.1 Payment of TICA membership dues and a $5 annual recertification fee on or before ~~May 1 of each year.~~ the due date for the re-certification exam.

51.2.5.2 Completed the annual re-certification examination with a score of 90 percent or better.

51.2.5.3 The re-certification exam must be returned to the Clerking Administrator within 60 days of the date when the exam was mailed. Failure to comply with this deadline will result in the Trainee or Clerk being dropped from the Clerking Program.

Rules Committee Comments:

- (A) Why not change the licensing date to match the date that judges have, so that there is only one uniform date that all licensed personnel of TICA have to respond by. Remove the language about the exams and due dates.
- (B) One needs to set a 'deadline'. To me, May 1st is appropriate. It is what the timing is for membership renewals. When someone renews their membership, they should be renewing their clerking license fee as well. Same time. And, with the May 1st deadline, people actually have until May 31st for a fee to be 'delinquent'.
- (C) I always pay with my dues. I know this isn't in our job description but why are clerks paying $5? It seems like extra unnecessary work for the EO.

Update Judging Program (Add Judging Committee) - Krenn

Rationale:

With the formation of the Judging Committee and agreement by the Board at their meeting of 30 June 2018 on the direction of the Committee's activities, the Judging Program needed to be updated so that the Judging Committee handles acceptances and advancements in the JP, not the Board.

In addition, the Judging Committee wishes to terminate the existing LIGJ program, whilst retaining, for all current LIGJs, the ability to judge and progress to a full TICA judge.

Updated Judging Program:

The entire document has been reviewed and updated to reflect the following :

- 1) New Article ONE that establishes the remit of the Judging Committee, revises the JA role, and defines the new Deputy JA role. As a consequence, old Article ONE becomes Article TWO, and the old Articles TWO and THREE become a single Article THREE
- 2) Changing references to JA or Board to the Judging Committee (as appropriate) throughout the document.
- 3) Stopping any new LIGJ being appointed after Jan 2019, and revising the criteria to advance an LIGJ to be a full TICA Judge."

The revised document is provided separately.

Rules Committee Comments:

- (A)

This is a rather long document - I wish they would have submitted it in chunks.

How is the committee going to go about deciding who can advance and not? They need to incorporate some sort of guidelines that are public so applicants can know what they need to do.
- (B)

My initial comments covered a number of typos. These have now been corrected in the final version submitted to Rules. Please note that cross-references have not been checked against the new numbering.
- (C)

This is a bold move for TICA. The newly formed Judging Committee has been something that most judges have been pushing for a long time in one form or another. These changes allow the judges, through the Judging Committee, to manage TICA's judging program. And, it takes trust from the TICA Board of Directors to allow this process to evolve. I'm sure there will be bumps along the way, but these updates are the next logical step in the process.

TERMINOLOGY AS IT APPLIES TO TICA BREED STANDARDS

Interpretation by Marge Hanna

Nose: The area, with its underlying cartilage, from the top edge of the nose leather up to the bottom of the bridge of the nose.

Bridge of the Nose: The bony area on the top of the nose below the eyes.

Area from the bridge of the nose to the brow line: Examples can be:

- a. A straight level plane
- b. A gentle rise
- c. A slightly concave rise or dip
- d. A stop or change of direction; may be very slight or pronounced, or
- e. A break or indentation at about eye level or between the eyes

Brow line: The protective bony area across the face at the top of the eye aperture

Forehead: The frontal area between the brow line and the inside bottom edge of the ear, generally about a thumb's width above the brow line on an average adult domestic feline

Top Head area to Occiput: The uppermost boning of the skull to just before the head turns onto the upper neck. Can be viewed best by gently holding the ears along the side of the head and looking across the head while viewing the profile.

Jaw line: The line from the front tip of the chin back along the mandible (lower jaw) to the back angular point (a) of the jaw.

Chin: The part of the jaw containing the lower incisors and canines. Should be padded to some extent in all breeds and all lower teeth shall be in correct alignment with upper teeth and shall be neither:

- < Overshot: The upper jaw, and teeth, protruding in front of lower jaw and teeth, nor
- < Undershot: The lower jaw and teeth protruding out in front of the upper teeth and jaw, nor
- < Wry mouthed: Viewed from the front, the mouth parts, either upper or lower and sometimes both, are abnormally twisted or bent, either down or to one side. The lower jaw aligned outside the line or to the side of the upper mouth. This is the worst of the abnormal bites.

Chin and nose profile: A straight line, viewed from the side, from end of nose (11) to the chin (8) . In some cases allowance should be taken into account for the soft upper lip (9) appearing to be outside the line.

Muzzle: The lower area of the face, or head, from under eye aperture to the lower end of the head or nose, containing the jaw, lips, incisors and canines, the whisker pads and nasal area and nose leather.

Nose Leather: The bare nose pad that contains the nostrils.

Muzzle/Whisker Break or Whisker Pinch: The change of direction between the muzzle and the lower cheekbones under the eye or at the side of the face.

Cheekbone: The arched bone that starts under the eye area (malar) and curves up and out past the eye aperture (zygomatic arch) to slightly past the line of the angular point (a) of the jaw, protecting both the eye as well as keeping the top point (b) of the jaw that extends into the skull area (behind the eye orbit) in line. In most breeds the angle of the eye aperture follows the angle of the cheekbone.

Whisker Pads: The muscular pads on the side of the muzzle that cover and protect the nasal and upper canine area and control the movement of the whiskers.

Profile: The lines, viewed from the side, from the tip of the nose (1) up to the top of the head (6), from the tip of the nose (11) to the chin (8) and back along the jaw line (7).

Wedge: The line, viewed from the front, from the lower muzzle, past the canines (10), up along the side of the cheek (13) to the outer bottom edge of the ear (16). In some breeds the ears are to be a continuation of the wedge.

Upper throat or hyoid area: The top of the neck where it meets and turns into the soft under-part of the jaw.

Front point of the Shoulder: The joint at the upper end of the humerus (upper arm) where it fits into the lower structure of the scapula (shoulder blade).

Anterior (front end) of the sternum: The sternum runs from the anterior (19) back and under the body between the front legs and along the chest to (25) the lower sternum.

Long bones of the front legs: the radius and the ulna that join at the lower end of the humerus at the elbow.

Carpals: The tiny bones that correspond with the human wrist at the lower end of the radius and the ulna.

a. Carpal pad: The small pad on the back of the carpal area. Has no corresponding feature in the human.

Metacarpal: The small longish bones above the toes that correspond to the bones on the top of a human hand.

Toes (phalanges) of the front paw : Four are jointed to a metacarpal at the top of the paw (third joint) and ending in a claw system at the front of the first phalange or digit. The fifth metacarpal bone on the inside part of the "hand" is shorter and supports the fifth toe or "dew claw". Corresponds to the human thumb.

Elbow: The joint of the lower end of the humerus and the top of the radius and ulna.

Sternum or breast plate: With the exception of the thirteenth, or floating rib, the sternum anchors the lower ends (cartilage) of the ribs and supports the rib cage.

Flank: Muscular lower part of the body between the last rib and the knee, or thigh areas on either side of the body. Depth of flank is measured from this area (a) to the top of the torso (b).

Knee: The joint of lower end of the femur and the top of the long bones of the back of the leg (two), the tibia and the fibula. The joint is protected by a small bone, attached by cartilage to upper and lower boning, called the knee cap or patella.

Thigh: The heavily muscled area covering the femur. The thigh and the rump (33) are normally the heaviest part of any feline.

Tarsals: The small bones that correspond with the human ankle at the lower end of the tibia and fibula.

Metatarsals: The small longish bones above the toes on the back leg that correspond with the bones of the flat part of a human foot.

Toes (phalanges) of the back paw (four): Each structured as in the front paws. (23) The fifth toe on the back paw no longer exists.

Hock: The flat area on the back side of the metatarsals from the point of the heel down to the back of the back paw. Corresponds with the arch on the bottom and the heel of the human foot.

Rump: The muscular rear end of the torso covering the back tip of the pelvic structure.

Tail or caudal vertebrae: Normally has 14 to 28 tapering vertebrae.

Base of the tail: The area where the tail meets the body directly in line above the rump and behind the sacrum.

Croup: The area from the base of the tail (35) to the top of the hip vertebrae.

Hip bone (ilium): The top of the hip bone lies in front of the hip vertebrae (3) at the sacrum. The lower end holds the top of the femur as a ball and joint system at the pubic girdle.

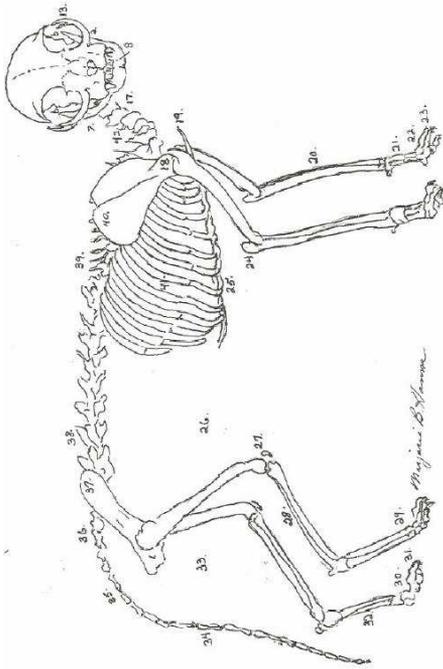

Back or lumbar region of the back bones: Seven vertebrae between the top of the hip (37) to the top of the last rib just behind the shoulder blade. Extremely flexible.

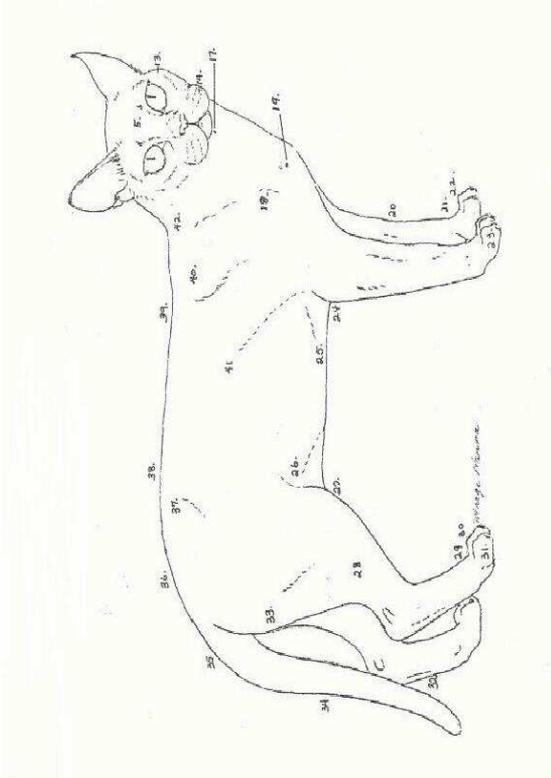

Thoracic vertebrae: Upper chest, 13 vertebrae go from the lumbar vertebrae, between the shoulder blades, at the withers, to the seven cervical, or neck, vertebrae and support the top 13 sets of rib bones.

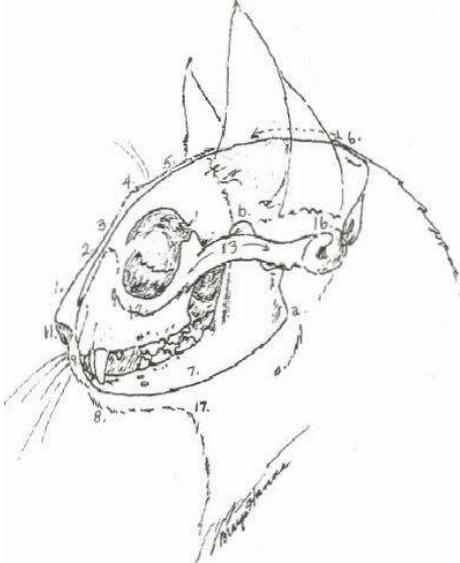

Shoulder blade or scapula: Upper part attached only by muscles and tendons at the thoracic region. Lower end is a ball and cup joint system at the top of the humerus.

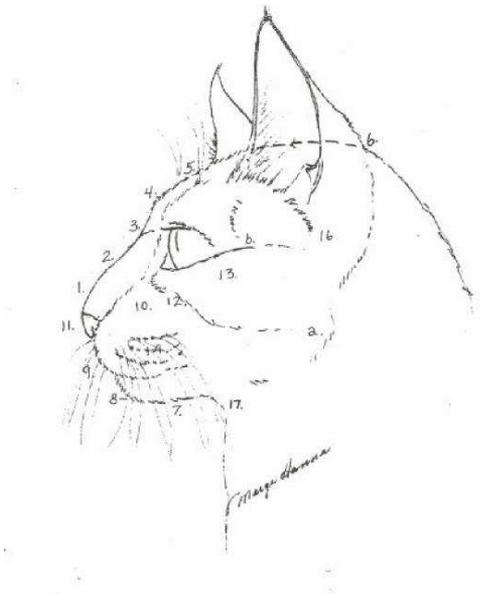

Rib cage: Bowed out and slightly expandable, rib (thirteen) are bone where each is joined at the back bone at the thirteen thoracic vertebrae. Approximately three quarters of the way down each rib they are attached to the cartilage part of each rib which extend slightly forward and are attached to sternum, a the lower part of the torso.

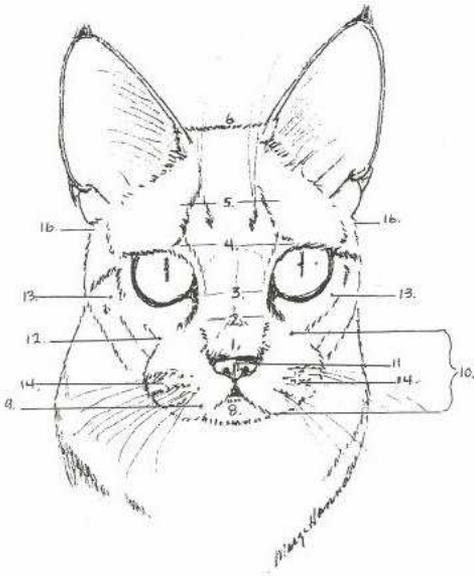

Neck bones: Cervical vertebrae (seven) support the skull and mandible structure.

TRAINING MANUAL

Introduction

One of the most important duties we assume as TICA Allbreed judges is the responsibility of training new judges. This manual has been developed to provide guidance to judges conducting ring-training sessions. Its purpose is to ensure that the expectations of both the trainee and TICA are met. At the end of the trainee's formal ring training, we would hope to be adding a new judge with a well-rounded knowledge of the expectations of exhibitors, spectators, clubs, and TICA.

Please remember that the trainee will soon be your peer and will represent TICA, just as you are doing now. Training judge and trainee should have respect for one another at all times!!! Your job is to help mold the best TICA has to offer – and that comes through positive attitude and constructive criticism.

The Preliminaries

In accordance with the requirements of the Judging Program, trainees shall complete the Permission to Train Form for each show at which s/he wishes to train, obtaining written permission from both the club hosting the show and the instructor giving the training. These forms shall be signed by all parties PRIOR to the day of training.

Training Sessions are limited to two training sessions per show weekend, except when training overseas. When training overseas, three training sessions are allowed per show weekend. A "show weekend" is defined as 1-day, 2-day or 3-day shows. Only one training session is permitted day, except when training overseas. When training overseas up to two training sessions per day are permitted not to exceed three sessions per weekend.

Ring training consists of handling a minimum of 40 kittens, cats, alters, household pets or new breeds. The selection of the cats for training is at the training judge's discretion. The trainee may train with any Approved Allbreed Judge, ten of which must be different Licensed Ring Instructors. Trainees residing in North America must train in at least six North American Regions. Trainees residing on either the East or West Coast must train on an opposite coast at least once. Trainees located centrally must train on both coasts. All trainees are strongly advised to train at least once overseas.

The trainee is expected to handle his or her own cat(s) during the training period, but without calling attention to the ownership of the cat(s). The trainee shall not leave the judging ring and may not have access to a show catalog until s/he has completed training and been dismissed by the instructor.

The trainee shall provide the instructor with a stamped self-addressed envelope. The instructor shall complete the evaluation form and review any Breed Comparison Reports, mailing copies to the Trainee no later than seven days after the close of the show.

Ready, Set: When you agree to work with a trainee, you might ask them to contact you about a week in advance of the session. This gives the two of you the opportunity to discuss the trainee's requirements, what session you will be working on with them, what the trainee has previously worked on and what help they might require. As a result you AND the trainee will arrive at the session with some expectation of what will be worked on.

GO!

Beginning the Ring Training Session

Be prepared: Make sure you have a copy of the breed standards and the uniform colors descriptions. It is also useful if you have photos or drawings of breeds you've agreed to work on to refer your discussions to. Remember, the Standards were written from cats, not cats from Standards. The old saying, "a picture is worth a thousand words," comes into play here.

Pick the correct "level": It is important to determine how far along a trainee is with their ring training so that you can determine how to conduct the session. Obviously, your expectations should be different, depending on whether this is the first or the last training session for the trainee. You WILL have the superior knowledge and expertise, so don't try to prove it by making the session so difficult that learning is hampered by "intimidation."

Mutual expectations: Discuss with the trainee your mutual expectations. Your trainee may be somewhat nervous, if this is their first session with you, so let them know how you'd like to conduct the session and what to expect. Gear the session to the level of knowledge or expertise you'd expect. On the flip side, have the trainee tell you their expectations, concerns, topics or breeds they'd like to pay particular attention to. (Hopefully, you've had an opportunity to discuss this prior to the session.)

Stages of training: The trainee shall have a minimum of 40 ring training sessions handling approximately 40 kittens, cats, alters or household pets. The first 35 of these training sessions shall consist of handling full classes (i.e., championship cats, alters, etc.) or handling full breeds and/or breed groups (i.e., the Persian Breed Group; Maine Coon kittens, cats and alters; etc.). The selection of cats for training shall be at the training judge's discretion, but should complement the training needs of the trainee. Trainees shall make a set of judge's books, if not furnished by the hosting club. These books shall be made from another judge's book and NOT from a show catalog.

At the end of a training session, the instructor may ask the trainee to write a Breed Comparison Report on a breed or breed group designated by the instructor. This report will be handed in to and reviewed by the instructor who will then send it to the appropriate persons. A minimum of fifteen Breed Comparison Reports are required during the training period.

The following pages contain suggested topics to include at different stages of the trainee's ring training experience. While you are certainly free to tailor your sessions with your trainee, it is important that you include these topics. It is important to your trainee to have the benefit of our collective "wisdom" and experience in order to develop their own organization and style.

And don't forget: Thank the exhibitors for their patience during the conduct of ring training sessions. Having a quality ring training session and a well-trained judge will surely benefit them in the end. Let spectators in on what's going on, too. So much is a mystery to them, already, besides seeing two people in the ring instead of one! Explain your process.

One suggestion was to post a "Ring Training In Progress" sign in front of the judging table.

Introduction to TICA, The Business
The Judge's Many Roles
Handling Basics

INTRODUCTION TO TICA - THE BUSINESS

What is the business of TICA?

TICA is a registry of cats. But to support that business, TICA does a whole lot more. Probably the most important activity supporting the business of registering cats is the whole collection of activities and programs which support exhibiting cats—licensing of shows, judges and clerks, and maintaining a multi-level system of titles and awards.

What are the Vision and Mission of TICA?

It is important to understand what TICA, the business, is trying to accomplish. As judges, we have an important role in ensuring that TICA accomplishes its goals so that it remains strong and continues to grow.

The Vision of TICA is:

- “To be the cat fancier’s choice for registration, exhibition, comradery, and guidance on feline care and welfare and genetically sound, responsible breeding.”

TICA’s Mission is:

- To be the most accurate and comprehensive feline registry in the world
- To encourage and sanction cat shows that are both enjoyable and educational

How does TICA intend of fulfill its Vision and Mission?

TICA has adopted certain “strategies” which it pursues in order to encourage cat fanciers to participate in TICA. These Strategies are:

- Conduct judging without known titles.
- Maintain the unique show format.
- Encourage a friendly show atmosphere
- Membership entitles an individual vote.
- Integrate business processes in order to deliver timely and professional service to customers.
- Support the development of new clubs in order to increase the number of show opportunities for current members and as a way to encourage more interest in the cat fancy.
- Preserve and expand the cat fancy.
- Deliver a quality recognition program
- Maintain the genetic-based registry.

- Register Household Pets; recognize and honor them on an equal basis with pedigreed cats.
- Collaborate with other registries in order to support feline welfare efforts.

In addition, the organization has adopted a set of “values” which guide its decisions and the conduct of its business. You might consider these as ethical statements or “guiding principles”. They are:

- Conduct judging without known titles.
- We respect, honor, and promote the welfare of all cats
- We maintain an accurate and comprehensive genetic registry
- We foster comradery and good sportsmanship
- We provide friendly, efficient customer service

The essence of TICA is captured in its “Motto”:

- “TICA for fabulous felines, fun and friendships!”
- “Wherever You Are, You’re in TICA’s World”

How does TICA know when it is successful?

The following are the key success indicators that the organization chooses to track as indicative of its success in fulfilling its Vision and Mission:

- Conduct judging without known titles.
- Growth in cats exhibited in TICA shows
- Growth in registrations
- Satisfaction of clients with services provided by TICA

THE JUDGE’S MANY ROLES

Remember, the business of TICA promises “Fabulous Felines, Fun and Friendships.” It’s a “given” that the organization, exhibitors and spectators all expect us to exercise our professional training and make our best judgment regarding the quality of the cats presented to us. But our role is greatly expanded.

From the Exhibitors’ perspective.

- Handling. While many of our exhibitors are extremely competitive, many others just enjoy showing their beloved cats and socializing with their friends and fellow cat fanciers. Perhaps the most important thing we can do as judges is reduce the concern that substantially ALL exhibitors have over how their cats are handled. Most exhibitors will forgive us our choices of the cats we recognize, but NO ONE will forgive us if we don’t handle their cats with respect. A show is definitely not “fun” if the exhibitors are worrying about how we will handle their cats. Much weight is given to this skill in both written evaluations and complaints/feedback from exhibitors.

- Demeanor/Appearance. When we are “behind the table,” we have to remember that we are professionals, being paid for a professional job. It is important that we look and act professional. While we can still be “fun” and “friendly”, we shouldn’t forget that the most important job that we have is to judge cats, not spend time socializing with friends.

From the Spectators’ perspective.

- Education. Spectators are paying money to visit our shows. They are important not only from the revenue they generate for the club, but also as potential exhibitors. While they may be quite happy to see all the beautiful cats and visit with the breeders, they are DELIGHTED when we can take some time to talk about the cats and provide a little education.
- Obviously, how much of this that we can do is often dependent on the amount of time and number of cats we have to handle. Encourage trainees, as they begin judging and feel comfortable in doing so, to be on the watch for a building spectator crowd and an opportunity to exhibit some “showmanship.”

From the Club’s perspective.

- Organization/Timeliness. As we all know, much goes into putting on a cat show. From the clubs’ perspective, our job is not only to judge the cats to the best of our professional ability, but also to do so within a time frame set by the club. While those time frames may often times seem unrealistic, it is still incumbent on us to try our best to honor them. It is important to remember that this commitment is not only in the case of trying to judge many cats in a short time frame, but also in the case of handling a few cats within advertised show hours. The clubs depend on exhibitors and you ARE THE SHOW!

HANDLING BASICS

Build Confidence! It is important in the early sessions of ring training that the trainee begin to develop confidence in handling the cats. After our many years of experience, we hardly think about our handling “routines.” We’ve developed our own styles and handling the cats is second nature to us. For the beginner, it can be an intimidating experience.

You are encouraged to let the trainee either remove the cats from or return them to the judging cages. The harder task, but the one which requires the most skill is the removal from the cage. It is suggested that you allow the trainee to do this, at least for some portion of the session. It is this way that the trainee learns how to approach a strange cat and properly remove it without hurting either themselves or the cat. Share with them your techniques. E.g., what do YOU do when a cat is difficult to remove; when it’s shy, frightened, aggressive, or wants to come out its own way! Remind the trainee that you don't need to be a hero and try to drag out a reluctant cat. They can always call for the handler and ask them to remain at the table and soothe the cat.

How do you bend properly to protect your back.? When and how do you use teasers? Discuss cat "body language."

Discuss with your trainee that their attention should be on the cat at all times. Distraction from the cat (talking to clerks or the audience) can be a good way to get hurt or for a cat to escape the ring. Treat each cat gently and kindly and with respect. Always "be aware"!

Stress that the trainee must be gentle with the cats. Relaxed cats will show themselves off. Don't over handle.

Discuss how you approach the responsibility of judging kittens and the impact you might have on their future show career. Are you extra gentle with them? Do you take a little more time and use a few more toys? Spectators love to watch kittens play!!

Let your trainee handle the cat on the table in order to begin developing the judging routine. This will be very awkward at first for the trainee, as they are handling strange cats of many different breeds—plus, they will tend to be nervous and unsure of themselves. Offer pointers but let them build their confidence.

Handling the Breeds. Emphasis should be on handling the different breeds and body types. The judge should help the trainee in basic handling techniques for each breed or breed group (e.g., not stretching PS when taking them out of the judging cage, but definitely stretching BG), help them find a routine in how they will handle each cat (no matter what the breed – maybe checking body, then head, then pattern, etc.), disinfecting the table and hands after handling each cat, and practicing basic mechanics (each HHP gets a Merit ribbon), etc. If the judge sees a solid foundation in handling the cats, and the trainee has not passed out from the pure stress of being in their first training sessions, then perhaps more advanced techniques can be added to these sessions.

Please be receptive to specific questions asked by the trainee regarding the breed standards and other issues – even though these sessions focus on handling. The trainee is very nervous at this point, and it is your duty to help them build confidence and poise. Constructive criticism only, PLEASE!

Beginning II
Sessions 6-10
Handling, Handling, Handling
Mechanics- judging large classes, selecting cats for finals
Knowledge of Breeds

HANDLING

Continue to help the trainee develop the handling routine. Help them refine the judging routine—how do you do it? Body, head, tail, etc.? Discuss with the trainee your routine for checking for “faults.”

MECHANICS

It's time for you to share how you approach judging a large class of cats. What is your secret for keeping track of cats when you can't even leave your top color or division winners in your ring?

How to do keep track of the cats that you think are worthy of a final? Do you make lists or do you have your own “shorthand” in the margins of your judge's book?

Share your tips!

KNOWLEDGE OF BREEDS

Time to start getting to the nitty-gritty regarding breed standards, finding the essence of each cat, marking a judges' book, and selecting cats for finals. The trainee may or may not be comfortable in initially providing their opinion to the judge. Therefore, the judge should help “bring out” the opinions from the trainee (asking what they think about the length of the muzzle, rather than simply asking “what do you think about this cat”). This will help the trainee develop confidence while providing focus points for each breed (very important at this point!). But essentially, the flow of information is from judge to trainee.

Assigning breed comparisons. You might consider assigning a Breed Comparison Report to your trainee. Remember, this must be completed and returned to you for your review.

Since these reports pertain to cats being shown the day of the show and it is time consuming for trainees to find the cats and owners, you might help out your trainee by letting the exhibitors know that a breed comparison has been assigned and the trainee will be looking for those cats later that day or weekend. Encourage them to seek out the trainee.

The judge should not assign more than one Breed Comparison Report per session. The judge can flip through the judging book and assign classes in advance of handling those cats or ask the trainee to suggest cats or breeds for comparison.

Intermediate
Sessions 11-20
Time Management
Handling
Mechanics
Knowledge of Breeds

TIME MANAGEMENT

We are often faced with the dilemma of judging the cats in the time allotted by the show committee. We often times have more rather than fewer entries to judge in a timely manner. Discuss with the trainee how you approach your time management first thing in the morning. What decisions do you make from the very beginning? What impact does the experience of your clerk have on your timing?

If you have few entries and a lot of time, what do you do? What opportunities do you take given an excess of time? On the other side of the coin, how do you manage to judge twice as many cats in the same period. What "shortcuts" do you take? How do you make up time?

HANDLING

Continue to watch for the development of a smooth handling and judging routine. You might sit in the audience and observe the trainee handling some cats and give feedback to them. (In private, of course.)

Discuss and demonstrate how you make a structural assessment of the cat your judging. What are your techniques? How do you interpret your findings and what impact does it have on your awards?

MECHANICS

Ask the trainee to turn in a copy of their judge's book pages to the ring clerk for review. This is part of developing a routine and should be started as soon as possible in the training program. If the trainee is comfortable enough, ask them to start hanging flats. Do NOT have them hang "their" flats for you to come along and change. You do not want the audience discussing whether the trainee or the judge was "correct."

KNOWLEDGE OF BREEDS

The flow of information should be equal between judge and trainee. You should be sharing opinions with the trainee. It is very helpful to spend this time discussing the essences of the cats and of judging.

Start challenging the trainee a bit more. Discuss and compare specific features as they relate within and among the breeds. Ask them to compile SP and AB finals. Ask them WHY they chose those cats. Feel free to refer to the Standards or photos and sketches to help interpret the written word and compare to the cats being judged.

Try a little "exercise." Ask the trainee to make a quick, overall assessment of each class. Then for each cat, ask your trainee to name the best attribute of the cat. If they had a magic wand, what would they change?

Watch for examples of cats which would make a good subject for a genetics lesson. Talk about eye colors, coat patterns, ghost markings, black skull marks on white kittens. Look at paw pads and nose leather. Household pets can make an interesting basis for genetics discussions!

Advanced
Sessions 21-35
Handling - Showmanship (present finals)
Knowledge of breeds - Selections

HANDLING - SHOWMANSHIP

Consider letting the trainee present your finals for you. You should sit quietly in the audience and observe. Remember, constructive criticism only!!

KNOWLEDGE OF BREEDS - SELECTIONS

Flow of information is from trainee to judge. Give the trainee time to think about their decisions, and then let them convey that information to you. The majority of the conversation should be initiated by the trainee. Do not simply give your opinion to the trainee and go on, without discussing the cat (assuming the cat warrants a discussion). There will be times when the cat is simply not a good example of the breed, and you move on quickly. But most of the time, the cat warrants SOME kind of discussion (every cat has something good about it!). Ask the trainee exactly what they think of the cat (or group of cats) and how they would rank it. Make sure the trainee is seeing the whole cat, and not just the individual pieces. Discuss how to make decisions based upon the points contained in the standards.

Discuss how you make decisions when the class has no outstanding example, when the class is uniformly "mediocre."

LISTEN to what your trainee has to say – and make sure it is correct. Any misleading information at this point could easily be ingrained in the trainee's head. And so these sessions are some of the most crucial in the development of the trainee. The trainee is feeling anxious about finishing ring training sessions, and may think they know it all – so challenge them softly. Find out what they know – and they will hopefully surprise you positively!!

The Final Five Sessions 36-40

The trainee shall stay with the training judge the entire day, handling cats as designated by the judge

The art of judging should be refined here. The judge should tell the trainee exactly what will happen that day. The trainee is extremely excited at this point and will hardly be able to contain themselves. So put them to work! Have the trainee hang all of your flats, present your finals, handle as many cats as you have time for, etc. Don't forget to let your audience in on the plan for the day! It's still your ring and your decisions.

If the trainee is sitting in the exhibitor's area for part of the time, have them mark their book as they see the cats on the stand. It is interesting to see how a trainee would rank the cats simply by "sight" and not being able to put their hands on the cats or see them up close.

At this point, ask the trainee to take responsibility for their opinions. Ask them to announce their breed or perhaps discuss with exhibitors some of the points the trainee brought up. DON'T embarrass them.

To the greatest extent possible, let them show their true judging style. Ask them to judge a large class of MC or BG. The judge could sit in the chairs and watch them, as would an exhibitor. Then have a discussion about what the judge observed. Hopefully it will be a positive experience for both judge and trainee.

Information flow is from trainee to judge.

The Solo Ring. Solo judging shall consist of handling no fewer than 20 entries (or of handling the entire class if fewer than 20 cats are present.). A solo training session may not be done on the same day as a ring training session. Trainees shall furnish their own rosettes for their solo finals.

Solo judging may take place before the show begins, during the show or after the completion of the show.

This is it! Well, your trainee has been through lots of learning and lots of training. Now, it is time to put it “all together” in the Solo Ring/s. The solo ring is like a final exam. This is where the trainee will synthesize everything they have been studying, training and practicing for. They should be able to efficiently run the ring, working with the clerk and (where appropriate) with show management and exhibitors. They should be able to reach the conclusion of their performance, the presentation of their Best Cat, all done with confidence, authority, and most of all respect for the cat.

This will be the time that the trainee will need to make decisions for themselves. Up till now they have used the set up in the ring and judge's table that you've used. Now, THEY get to decide if the flats go on their right or left. Where does the judge's book, the spray bottle paper towels and trash go? It might take a ring or two to decide where to put everything so that they are comfortable with it. Watch their routine, i.e. clean table, judge cat, hang ribbons, mark book, clean table-etc. See how well they have defined their “flow”.

Before your trainee begins, discuss with them your expectations and answer their questions or anxieties. Be sure you are comfortable with the clerk; we all know what impact either a “good” or “bad” clerk can have on our own performance. If you are uncomfortable with the clerk, you might talk to the show management about either reassigning someone else temporarily or “drafting” someone for the task.

Also, have the trainee think about how they will present their finals - short comments per cat, taking the cats out, etc. Remind them to stay focused on the cats and not the audience. This will help with the nerves.

One thing that should be stressed is, to keep a feeling of love for the process and to stay in perspective. This is not rocket science or life or death decision making...it's a cat show! Enjoy yourself and so will the cats and so will everyone watching.

So Your Trainee Thinks They're Ready To Be a Judge! Have License, Will Travel

Discuss with your trainee the "ins and outs" of traveling. It won't take them long to become "the expert" traveler. In the meantime, here are some helpful hints to keep your "new judge" prepared. Add your own tips!

Be Comfortable. Shoes are the most important thing to keep you "on your toes" all day. Make sure and have comfortable shoes. If need be, keep a super comfortable extra pair in your briefcase to change into.

Nourishment. Let's face it, you can't always depend on the airplanes to be on time. They certainly don't serve any food. At some point you will be stuck in the boonies with no food in sight. If you have special dietary needs, be prepared. Eat breakfast and don't count on the cat show lunch to be "Atkins Friendly." Have a protein bar handy!

Judging Supplies. Especially in the winter, be prepared for static. Certain parts of the country (and world) are especially problematic when it comes to winter static. You might carry along a can of Static Guard. You can spray the bottom of your shoes to keep you from shocking the cats.

Most of the time, you can find some odor neutralizer in the show hall, but it's always wise to carry a small bottle of X-O, just in case.

Carry an expense form with you, as the clubs rarely have one available. Obviously, a pad of paper will suffice.

Speaking of which, make sure to carry along a note pad or scratch paper (for notes and determining finals). If you like to use rings to keep your judging pages together, take an extra along as not all clubs use them. Don't forget a pen and extra finals pages.

First Aid. The clubs are supposed to have a first aid kit as part of their standard show requirements. You might consider taking along your own first kit, including antibiotics.

Don't be Stranded! Sometimes you might find yourself stranded at the airport when that "promised ride" doesn't show up. Make sure that, before you leave home, you know the location of the show hotel and have the address and telephone number.

Amend Standing Rule 905.1 (TICA Outstanding Cattery Program) - Fisher

Rationale:

The Board approved reinstating the Outstanding Cattery program and the applicable Code of Ethics at the Winter 2018 meeting. However, the appropriate Standing Rules were not changed to reflect the new designation or set out the protocols of the program.

Amend Standing Rule 905.1:

905.1 TICA ~~Voluntary Responsible Breeder Program Protocols~~ Outstanding Cattery Program. (Replaces the TICA Voluntary Responsible Breeder Program)

905.1.1 ~~The TICA Voluntary Responsible Breeder Program will be known as the TVRB Program. A participant in the program will be known as a VRB (Voluntary Responsible Breeder).~~ In order to earn the designation of Outstanding Cattery, an applicant must complete the following requirements:

905.1.1.1 Sign the Code of Ethics as approved by the Board for this program

905.1.1.2 Submit a Cattery Evaluation Form, that has a qualifying score for the Program, completed and signed by the inspecting veterinarian.

905.1.2 Only one person may be named on the ~~Voluntary~~ Outstanding Cattery Code of Ethics.

905.1.3 The TICA Executive Office shall note consecutive years of participation in the TICA ~~Cattery Inspection Program (Outstanding Cattery or Cattery of Merit)~~ Program. If the current date of inspection is no more than 60 days past the prior year's inspection, the notation of years of participation will be printed on the current cattery certificate.

905.1.4 References to "Outstanding Cattery" ~~or "Cattery of Merit"~~ on any material (i.e. web site, advertising, etc.) issued by the cattery must include the date that these designations were last earned.

905.1.5 TICA may, at any time, contact the inspecting veterinarian for verification of the information provided on the Cattery Evaluation Form.

Rules Committee Comments:

(A)

This update makes clear that the Outstanding Cattery Program replaces the old VRBP, and ensures consistency between the revised forms and TICA's rules.

Rules Committee Comments on Breed Reports – Winter 2019

The following breed reports were received too late for inclusion in the Annual Agenda and are commented upon in this report:

- Minuet (MNT/MNL - Championship status since May 2016)
- Burmilla (BM/BML - Championship status since May 2015)

Burmilla Report

The Burmilla group has met the requirements of 33.8.15, and this report marks the completion of their 3 years of reports since the breed advanced to Championship.

Minuet Report

Whilst the Committee believes the figures quoted in the Minuet report are correct, demonstrating that the requirements of 33.8.15 have been met, limited verification evidence was presented in the report.

EO Reporting on New Breeds:

It is clear that there has been some difficulty in obtaining relevant reports from the EO for new Breeds this year. The Committee recommends that the Board consider giving some direction and clarity on what TDS reports can be created and sent out to each Chair of the Working Group/Breed Committee in a timely fashion.

The timeframe for such reports is set out in Reg Rules 33.6.3.4 (PNB) and 33.7.4.5 (ANB) – since breed reports are set around a show year, it may be that after the Spring Meeting would be more appropriate.

Also, there may be some advantage in providing some Standing Rules to supplement 33.8.15 to flesh out the level of detail to be provided in the reports. The Committee recommends that the Board should consider if this would be helpful in setting expectations for Breed Chairs during the first three years of Championship.

Missing Reports:

The following breeds have still not submitted annual reports, as required by the Registration Rules:

PNB:

Minskin (MS)

ANB:

Serengeti (SE)

New Championship Breeds:

Khao Manee - (KM – Championship since May 2015)

Donskoy - (DSK – Championship since May 2016)

Our third year in Championship status was very successful!

Information for litters registered, cats registered, cats shown, accompany this report. There are separate documents for each. There are two documents for cats shown, an overview and detailed list of shows.

Five breeders, from five different regions registered Burmilla/Burmilla Longhair litters with TICA.

More than twenty five Burmillas/Burmilla Longhairs were registered; however not all information was obtained.

Ten different Burmillas/Burmilla Longhairs were shown as kittens and/or cats in a minimum of ten rings.

Of the adults shown, several earned titles and regional awards

- One Burmilla earned the title of Supreme Grand Champion

Burmillas were shown in four Regions.

Minuet 2017-2018 Breed Report

From: Joseph Smith

Dear Rules Committee,

As per TICA Registration Rule 33.8.16, the following is our annual report as pertains to the Minuet, which was accepted into championship status in January 2016. Per discussion/correspondence with Leslie Bowers and examination of 2017-2018 TICA Standings, we are pleased to announce that we have once again far exceeded the basic requirements for maintaining championship status as spelled out in TICA Registration Rule 33.8.15.

“33.8.15.1 Register a minimum of 25 additional cats of the breed.” In the past year, TICA has registered a total of 88 Minuet and Minuet-Longhairs. This is more than double the number registered the year prior (38).

“33.8.15.2 Exhibit a minimum of 10 individual cats of the breed in at least 15 rings in at least 3 regions.” In the past year, 39 Minuets were shown in a total of 8 regions. We are proud to announce that a Minuet was first in its region (International) and 16th Best Cat of the Year. A different Minuet achieved the honor of 13th Best Longhair of the Year.

“33.8.15.3 Have at least 5 TICA members in a minimum of 3 regions who are actively breeding the breed.” We are pleased to announce that we currently have 77 breed section members, an increase from last year’s number of 55. We have 31 active breeders who reside in at least 11 different regions.

Thank you for your continued support of the Minuet and Minuet-Long. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions or concerns.

Minuet 2017-2018 Breed Report

Hi Martin,

Our previous breed chair, Samantha McConnell, informed me that I would be receiving notification and documents from the executive office pertaining to our annual report. Unfortunately, that never occurred. So, around the beginning of August, I called and spoke to Leslie Bowers and asked her for the information. At that time she verbally gave me the number "88" as to our registration numbers. She was unable to pull up our TICA Member information at that time, but sent this to me a few weeks later:

Fabulous felines, fun and friendship®. Wherever you are, you're in TICA's World!

The International Cat Association, Inc. (TICA) is the world's largest genetic registry of pedigreed and household pet cats and one of the world's largest sanctioning bodies for cat shows.

By going through last year's list in Samantha's previous report, I was able to figure out who in the membership was actively breeding. The number of 31 is actually a conservative estimate. Since we only needed 5, I did not take the time to make a list of those names. I apologize for that, and will attempt to do so if the Rules Committee feels it is necessary.

Below is our TICA standings from 2017-2018 for the Minuet and Minuet Long, taken from TICA's web page.

From this I was able to count the number of cats being shown as well as the number of regions that they were shown in. In doing a more careful count, I see that we actually had 43 cats shown in 10 different regions, as opposed to 38 and 9 (noting that 4 cats were shown as both kittens and adults).

I apologize for lack of documentation, but this is all I had to work with. As to our registration numbers, I am sure that Leslie will be able to verify that number, as well as our conversation.

Yours,

Joe

Rules Comments on Marguerite Advancement – EXP to RO

The Rules Committee has reviewed this application for Advancement of the Marguerite from Experimental status to Registration Only status.

Rules Committee assumes that the EO will verify the registration and membership information within the application, since Rules Committee has no access to TDS.

From a Rules perspective, the application meets the current criteria set out in Registration Rules 33.3.3 for advancement.

Note that Rules Committee makes no determination that the Marguerite meets the requirements of Reg Rules 31.2 and 33.3.3.6.1. The determination that the Marguerite is a distinct breed unlike any currently recognised by TICA is a Board decision based upon guidance from the Genetics Committee.

Rules Committee Comments:

I would suggest including the domestic shorthair as a permissible outcross since the breeding program states they are being used to develop the breed.

Response:

“We are happy to include DSH as an outcross as each one is assessed individually as to its suitability.”

(B)

I would like to know if the URI issue is a specific infection that has been identified and treated for in the breed, or if these cats are simply more prone to any kind of URI due to their head/nasal structures?

Response:

“When we started on this journey with the Marguerites we were under the impression that the URI would be an issue, but as time went on we found that it hasn’t proved to be a problem in the Marguerites. The problem occurring in two of the F1 litters in the early outcrossing, and an F3 litter was a tendency to pick up bacteria in the nasal passageways causing a difficulty in breathing which appears as if it is a URI when in actual fact once the bacteria is dealt with using eye drops to create fluid going into the nose, and nasal drops with an aspirator this cleared up. However, these bloodlines were stopped to ensure the narrow nasal passageways didn’t become a problem in future litters.

These cats and kittens were neutered and found pet homes and the problem is no longer a problem in these cats and kittens as our information was given to the new owners and their vets.

We wish to make health a priority in the Marguerites.

The head shape isn’t a problem as much of the width of the head of the Marguerites ancestor the Sand Cat is taken up by the larger than average trumpet of the ear causing the head to appear wider than it actually is. To keep ears healthy we are also making it a priority to keep the hairs/ear furnishings in the ears to reduce the risk of dirt going into the larger than average ear trumpets as we progress the breed.”

Brief description of EXPERIMENTAL MARGUERITE Breeding Programme.

Hyrbridising of Sand Cat x Domestic Cat.

The Marguerite temperament is active, sociable, curious, and calm, they enjoy the company of humans and other animals. Marguerites love to spend time cuddling and gently playing so work well with people with limited abilities such as Autism, or developmental delay. They are also good for people with limited site as they are very gentle and loving so as not to alarm blind people.

OUR AIMS:

Breed a Domestic Cat with the hint of its ancestor The Sand Cat retaining some of the distinct differences of the Sand Cat eg:

Extremely flexible body/joints.

Retaining the kitten looks into adulthood.

Very sweet friendly nature.

Enjoying company of others and thriving on human contact.

To show fertility in the male offspring of early generation hybrids.

Breed healthy Marguerites and ensure a large gene pool by outcrossing with a wide range of Domestic Cats. Not using a specific breed as outcross to ensure the Marguerite stands alone as a breed. Using outcrosses assessed on individual basis.

Marguerite Cats are now showing consistency in their appearance and body structure. Marguerite Cats are also showing consistency in their behaviour showing a love of human company and have the energy levels suitable for playing with other family pets.

Marguerite Cats have good consistent fertility in male and females from F2 generation. Also fertility has been shown in some F1 generation males as well as the females, although the male F1 generation seems to show a reduced fertility and also a tendency to be older /longer in their development/maturity.

Marguerite Breed Committee: Jacky Bliss (EW), Gill Heaton (EW), Tove Ingrid Lienes Lusuand (EN), Jon Paterson (Mid Pacific), Julie Morris (EW)

GENERAL APPEARANCE:

Appearance is with the hint of its ancestor the Sand Cat, showing many of the Sand Cat traits such as retaining a kitten look into adulthood. Retaining a hint of tabby markings into adult life but with lots of ticking over the markings. Ticking and leg barring are essential along with a Coby body with a slightly longer shorthair all weather coat.

Size in female adults less than 3 kg, and adult males less than 5 kg with a preference for around 4 kg.

Outcrosses are NOT allowed, and should any be used they must then go through the breed committee for advice on tests required before being put into the Marguerite breeding programme.

Marguerite Standard of Points attached.

HEALTH:

The upper respiratory health issues found in the Sand Cat have been addressed in careful outcrossing being developed making sure that there are no nose breaks, enlargement of nasal passageways between the eyes, and wide open nose entrance.

Marguerites are kept until 14 to 16 weeks to ensure they are large enough to neuter before leaving the breeders.

Chris at Langford, Bristol is helping us work out tests appropriate for ensuring future health in the Marguerite Breed. These tests will be cheek swabs based on the breeds used in the background of all cats used as outcrosses.

KITTENS:

Birth weight of healthy kittens may vary between 40gm and 90gm.

THE BEGINNING OF THE MARGUERITE BREED:

In 2013 Jacky Bliss was approached by the then owner of Trevor Sand Cat who wanted to rehome him as he was getting older and becoming very smelly. He had also suffered from Pleurisy which was likely to come back. After some considerable time and discussions it was decided that Trevor would move homes to live with Jacky Bliss in an outside heated chalet.

It was at this point it was discovered that Trevor had hybridized with the then owners cross Persian female but all kittens had died from the first litter (this was considered an accidental mating as there was a belief that Sand Cats didn't hybridise with Domestic) and the second litter, all but one died within 6 months. It was also learned at this time that Beth had tried to start the process of a new breed with TICA and Beth asked if we would continue this.

On arrival at Purebliss Cattery, Trevor Sand Cat was really lonely and so being a Bengal breeder, Jacky Bliss put a sweet natured female Bengal in with him to keep him company. After a few weeks we had to take her out as she was pregnant, and we placed a neutered female with Trevor as companion. As these first kittens developed we were informed that the then owner was putting him on the open market for sale as a hybridising Sand Cat. Some friends came together to purchase Trevor Sand Cat from the then owner so that he could stay at Purebliss. Due to this high cost we decided to breed with Trevor to produce the Marguerite breed.

All the kittens from the original 2 litters produced in Trevors previous home died of immune weaknesses so we decided that this was something we had to be careful about. Also, Trevor Sand Cat came with a history of pleurisy so we realised he would need high veterinary costs.

This was the start of a fascinating journey: Bengals, Toygers, Savannahs, Tiffanies, Asians, Chausies, British, Domestic, Selkirk Rex, Devon Rex. We found better results from using cross breeds and domestics.

Rules Comments on Toybob Advancement – RO to PNB

The Rules Committee has reviewed this application for Advancement of the Toybob from Registration Only to Provisional New Breed status.

Rules Committee assumes that the EO will verify the registration and membership information within the application, since Rules Committee has no access to TDS.

From a Rules perspective, the application meets the current criteria set out in Registration Rules 33.6.1 for advancement.

This breed was originally advanced to Registration Only status in January 2017. Evidence at that time showed that the structural mutation was unrelated to any current TICA Championship breed and thus the restrictions of Reg Rule 39.4 do not apply.

LETTER OF INTENT

TICA Winter Board Meeting,

TICA Executive Office
Post Office Box 2684
Harlingen, Texas 78551

Dear TICA Board Members:

It is the intent of the Toybob Breed Group to advance the Toybob breed from our Registration Only status to the Preliminary New Breed status with TICA. The Breed Group believes that there is sufficient interest in the breed to advance the breed to the next level. Here are our current advancement details for your consideration:

- We have over 20 TICA registered breeders (across 7 different TICA regions) that have Toybobs cats and are actively breeding the cats, having produced litters within last two years. In addition, there are at least 5 TICA registered breeders that have acquired cats with the intention of breeding. There are also several breeders that are wanting to join the breeding group and are waiting for a Toybob cats to become available for their breeding program, in various regions of TICA.
- There are more than 30 Toybobs litters registered to date
- More than 70 adult cats ready to be shown in TICA cat show in a Preliminary New Breed Division if accepted to advanced.

Please consider us for an advancement to Preliminary New Breed. We have great group willing to dedicate time, resources, energy in promoting showing, and educating judges about the standards. The breeding group is also focus on preserving a health and genetic diversity in this breed.

Thank you for your time.

Respectfully submitted,

TOYBOB BREED GROUP TB/TBL

The Toybob (TB) is a small cat with proportionally balanced features, medium muscularity, and bone structure. The cat's bobbed tail is owed to a natural mutation(s) found in feral cats from Russia. The Toybob temperament is very gentle and the cat amenable to handle. Toybob Longhair (TBL) is the semi-longhair version of the breed.

PERMISSIBLE OUTCROSS:

Russian Domestic Shorthair and Longhair with similar phenotype. The outcross policy is currently permitted during the breed development and recognition process to ensure the genetic soundness of the breed.

HEAD:

Shape: Medium sized modified wedge with rounded contours and a flat plane above the eyebrows. Head is slightly longer than broader with rounded cheekbones curved inward from face to mid muzzle, to create a slight to no whisker pinch and ending in a round, modified square shaped muzzle. Jowls are prominent in adult males.

Ears: Medium tall, high on the head, one ear width apart and wide at the base. Ears must be as tall as wide in length, with rounded tips and slightly tilted forward.

Eyes: Eyes must be large, expressive, oval with a slight upward slant. The line across the corners of the eye leads to the outer base of the ear. When wide open, eyes can appear larger and round. The big-eyed expression is what gives the Toybob its sweet-faced look.

Eye Color: Traditional eye color is related to coat color, pointed divisions are blue; sepia is gold/green, mink is blue/green eyes.

PROFILE:

Distinctly curved profile with a dip from the forehead to the nose at the eye-middle level. Definite stop is not allowed

Chin: Strong with moderate depth, so as to still be in line with nose tip. Chin must be neither receding nor protruding.

Neck: Short and Thick. Allowances must be made for longer necks in kittens

Muzzle: Short, rounded, modified square shape in proportion to the face. Nose is Roman.

BODY:

Torso: Small and compact with a solid chest. Broad rib cage and slight depth of flank add to the solidness of the overall body balance. Back is almost straight when viewed from the side when the cat is in natural walking position.

Legs: Strong, medium in proportion to the body. Hind legs are slightly longer than front legs.

Feet: Rounded with elongated toes on the hind legs.

Tail: Bobbed with kinks and curves in any combination but also may be almost straight. The tail minimum length is 1 inch (minimum two vertebrae) to the maximum length (without stretching) down to the hock. The last bone may gently be felt to be pointed, not blunt.

Musculature: Firm, solid and well developed with clean lines and no bulging appearance.

Boning: Strong, moderately refined and proportional to the body. Neither heavy nor delicate.

COAT:

Color/Pattern: All

Texture/Length —

TB: Coat is short, soft and slightly plush to the touch, dense but not thick. The coat is rather resilient and not close lying to the body. The coat has developed undercoat where the topcoat is almost the same length as the undercoat. Stomach hair is shorter and softer, while fur texture on the spine area is slightly thicker and coarser. Kittens can have a somewhat woolly coat.

TBL: Coat is semi-longhair in length and softer than the short-coated variety. Topcoat is slightly longer in length than the undercoat but also giving it a plushy but not too thick feel through the entire body. The coat has very minimal ruff if any over the whole cat's body with visible ears and feet furnishings. No ear tufts.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION:

The Toybob is a naturally small, bobtailed cat primarily developed in the Rostov and Ural Regions of Russia. The Toybob name is derived from two words, where "Toy" is meant to describe a playful small-sized cat breed, and "bob" refers to a bobbed tail. Toybobs have compact, muscular bodies with short bobbed tails consisting of several kinked vertebrae. The Toybob body should not look nor feel refined or delicate. The cat's bobbed tail is unique to the breed and due to a spontaneous mutation(s) that appeared in feral cats native to Russia. The Toybob has a pleasant temperament and is affectionate while also obedient to their human companions. Despite their small size, they are active, playful and agile.

ALLOWANCES: Jowls in adult males, males smaller than females, longer necks in kittens, white spotting on feet in pointed coat divisions.

PENALIZE:

TB: Small eyes. Longer necks in adults. Too foreign body type. Oversized cat. Tail length past hock.

TBL: Small eyes. Longer necks in adults. Too foreign body type. Oversized cat. Tail length past hock. Long Persian-like coat. Tufts on ears.

WITHHOLD ALL AWARDS (WW): No flexibility to the tail. Crossed eyes.

DISQUALIFICATION (DQ): Any sign of the "Dominant Blue Eye" mutation (e.g. Ojos Azules, Russian Altai/Topaz). Short Munchkin-like legs. Docked tail. No tail. Undernourished or frail.

Temperament must be unchallenging; any sign of definite challenge shall disqualify. The cat may exhibit fear, seek to flee, or generally complain aloud but may not threaten to harm. In accordance with Show Rules, ARTICLE SIXTEEN, the following shall be considered mandatory disqualifications: a cat that bites (216.9), a cat showing evidence of intent to deceive (216.10), adult whole male cats not having two descended testicles (216.11), cats with all or part of the tail missing, except as authorized by a board approved standard (216.12.1), cats with more than five toes on each front foot and four toes on each back foot, unless proved the result of an injury or as authorized by a Board approved standard (216.12.2), visible or invisible tail faults if Board approved standard requires disqualification (216.12.4), crossed eyes if Board approved standard requires disqualification (216.12.5), total blindness (216.12.6), markedly smaller size, not in keeping with the breed (216.12.9), and depression of the sternum or unusually small diameter of the rib cage itself (216.12.11.1). See Show Rules, ARTICLE SIXTEEN for more comprehensive rules governing penalties and disqualifications.

Toybob Breeding Program (TBS/TBL)

The Toybob is a small cat with proportionally balanced features, medium muscularity and bone structure. The cat's bobbed and kinked tail appearance is owed to a natural mutation(s) from feral cats found in Russia. The naturally small cat size is preserved by selective breeding.

Breeding program includes the following goals:

1. Ensure proper genetic diversity and exchanges of the existing bloodlines developed over the years.
2. Continue current outcross policy to use domestic cats with similar phenotype from Russia that do not have any known structural mutations and are screened with Feline Wisdom Panel for all genetic traits and illnesses.
 - The Feline Wisdom panel also serves as a great tool to track breed overall genetic diversity and health soundness.
3. Continue to perform further research on the bob tail mutation with dr. Leslie Lyons.

Toybob uniqueness and breeding practices:

During the years of breeding, breeders have determined that the Toybob kinked bob tail mutation is a dominant mutation. The cat small size is preserved by selective breeding. While the Toybobs are considered small cats we also don't want to promote any "extreme" small cats, the size should be maintained by selective breeding and appropriate breeding practices.

TICA promotion and showing:

1. Encourage breeders to exhibit Toybobs and educate the standards at the cat shows and exhibitions.
2. Mentor new breeders.
